- Sales volume in the fourth quarter of 2006 was 2.3 million tonnes which represented a 0.6 million tonne increase from the fourth quarter of 2005 – an increase of 37 percent. The sales volume for the twelve month period was 7.4 million: an increase of 16 per cent, or 1 million tonnes, from the prior year.
- Sales revenues increased $52.4 million in the fourth quarter and $128.2 million for the twelve months: increases of 57 percent and 36 percent respectively from the prior year.
- Sales margins increased $28.8 million in the fourth quarter and $50.4 million for the twelve months, due to both an increase in sales volumes and a 19% increase in the benchmark price for lump and fine ore which has been partially offset by strong upward pressure on the majority of input costs.

Liquidity

At December 31, 2006, Portman had $123.6 million of cash and cash equivalents versus $74.5 million at 31 December 2005. The $49.1 million increase in liquid assets primarily reflected favourable earnings.

Outlook

Portman's estimate of 2007 production is 8.5 million tonnes, including 0.4 million from Cockatoo Island. Feasibility studies have concluded that mining and shipments from the current operations at Cockatoo Island can be continued until late 2007. Portman's estimate of 2007 sales is 8.5 million tonnes, compared with 7.4 million tonnes in 2006.

In December 2006, settlements between a number of the major seaborne iron ore producers and the Chinese steel industry resulted in a 9.5 percent increase in lump and fine ore prices for 2007. Sales of lump and fine ore from Portman will reflect the negotiated increase. Unit production costs at Portman are expected to be approximately 10 percent higher in 2007.

We are studying the use of existing technologies to beneficiate lower grade ores, which if successful could increase the ore reserve base.

Accounting Change

Effective 1 January 2006, Portman changed its accounting policy to expense exploration expenditures and deferred waste as incurred. The prior period comparative has been restated as if this policy has applied.
